Artists Josiah Omeenyo and Winston Butcher will hold a performance on opening night of traditional song and dance to celebrate the opening of the exhibition.

Contemporary art practice has become a powerful and poignant tool of indigenous cultures in Australia.

The ability to articulate and communicate unique perspectives to audiences continues to create social change in our collective country. Lockhart River Art Centre has successfully developed an international reputation for their art practice whilst empowering and encouraging their community to present positive social and cultural images and messages. 'Meen'thama'

Coming Out for Ceremony is the first exhibition of men's work to be held in Australia. We encourage all to come and celebrate this show, to be opened in song and dance by representative artists Josiah Omeenyo and Winston Butcher.
