

Leigh Camilleri

Urban Bushland

Opening

Saturday afternoon, 25 November 3pm – 6pm

Exhibition Dates

21 November – 2 December 2017

Fragments of quiet are just around the corner.. bushland. Often hidden, often forgotten. I seek the restlessness within this wild world.

The bush, its rawness agitates beside the urban confines of suburbia.

Wild edges, and intersecting tangled lines that remind me of the roads that buzz continuously, maps that divide space. In the bushland, sprawling broken spaces are defined by broken trees, the spaces between notate margins so the obvious falls away into the subconsciousness and the unseen becomes relevant.

The holes at the edge of the waterline: the trail of that develops into a trace of life quietly undiscovered.

I search for the threads and traces that drags my focus between the known and unknown.. observing, recording, those places within the urban mass. ~ Leigh Camilleri 2017

front image: Whites hillside - reflections, 2017, Acrylic on board, 60 x 60 cm

Woolloongabba Art Gallery

613 Stanley Street Woolloongabba Qld 4102

Enquiries +61 7 3891 5551 ~ email@wag.com.au