

Subtle

United by their sensitive approaches to materiality, Harriet Body, Ally McKay and Monique Tregenza's new exhibition Subtle, brings together delicate and precise work. These process driven pieces embrace a pared back logic that finds elegant simplicity in poetic unions of substance and space.

Through a range of installation, assemblage and paper based works, Subtle explores the motivation shared by each of these artists to use the vocabulary of materials to communicate the innate complexity present in gestures of subtlety.
