

Full Circle
Susan Wright

Cover image: Jade Slumber, Acrylic on canvas, 50 x 50 cm

Full Circle is my first solo exhibition, celebrating a lifelong passion for making—through both art and music. I've created art throughout my life, and several early works are included. After retiring—just as COVID hit—I returned to painting with fresh energy. The show features more than 25 works, predominantly acrylic on canvas, spanning six themes: Flora; Autumn Forests; Large-Scale Landscapes; Morning & Afternoon Light; Early and Recent Watercolours; and Ageing Performing Musicians.

I look at You Look at Me represents my belief that art making is a child's first 'literacy' which opens doors to other forms of literacy. A photo was taken of me standing next to a young girl's painting.

The secondary colours featured in the girl's self-portrait are mirrored in my portrait of me.

The dormancy of winter, where I grew up, is illustrated in North Dakota Prairie. Much after-hours time was spent indoors, at home or at school, where jam sessions took place around the piano, and artworks were created.
